WFMC STATE FESTIVAL COMPETITION 2018

Congratulations 2018 Participants!

The WFMC State Festival Competition took place last week. Many thanks to the organizers of this event, Jeanne Hryniewicki and Sam Ecoff. Special thanks are given to those who served as a support team including: Jamie Nyland, Eileen Warren, Jayme Dawicki, Cindy Welman, Anna Petrova, Tatyana Smith, Richard Hryniewicki, Helen Albert, Elena Petrova, Kathleen Latzke-Daley, and Carrie Arndorfer. The WFMC thanks the State Officers, as well as others who helped make the day possible; teachers, parents, judges, and volunteers. Without volunteers, over 750 students could not have taken part in this special day. Hats off to you – hard working WFMC Members!

WFMC STATE FESTIVAL COMPETITION AWARDS PROGRAM

An Awards Ceremony was presented on Saturday evening, May 19th. This year's competition had thirteen judged categories of events. Forty-two scholarship awards were given from $75 to $150 because of the generosity of members, friends, and the WFMC. Awards were given for: piano solo and concerto events, string solo and concerto, vocal solo art song and musical theater, woodwind solo, and guitar solo. Donations are accepted at any time in order to support the WFMC State Festival Competition awards.

It is to be noted that students came well prepared and are to be commended for conduct that reflected the high standards we (as judges) are seeing in this fifth year of competition. Thank you again, parents, and teachers for all you do to support music in our state.

Thank you to UW-Milwaukee, Peck School of the Arts, for the use of their facilities.

It was a fine day! H. O. Hong

MEMORIAL DAY 2018

Memorial Day is Monday and we honor all who have died while serving in the American Armed Forces.

Every Memorial Day as I listen to taps at our local cemetery, I am reminded of the powerful impact of music. Music plays a crucial part in honoring service men and women. Many military families recognize that music also has been a powerful tool for healing. As Music Club members -- share your musical gifts and talents with Veterans.
